

HOOVER VETOES VETERANS LOAN BILL AS UNWISE

SLOT MACHINES TAKEN IN RAID BY OFFICIALS

Sheriff's Force Gathered In Many Money-Getters In Co.

A county-wide cleanup of "jack pot" and money slot machines was unexpectedly launched by Sheriff Fred Richardson and several deputies yesterday afternoon and evening with the result that one of the cells at the county jail was well filled with the devices when the officers ceased their operations last evening. Sheriff Richardson conducted a visit of all road houses about Dixon and seized all money and "jack pot" machines found.

At the same time Chief Deputy Ward Miller paid a visit to Sublette and Amboy and returned about 5 o'clock with a car loaded with the devices. It was reported that during the course of the visits to many of the places in which the machines were found, numerous punch boards for merchandise, cheap jewelry and money were found and these were ordered discontinued and removed forthwith.

Got Many Complaints

State's Attorney Mark Keller and Sheriff Richardson conferred yesterday following the reported receipt of many complaints from throughout the county, in which it was charged that children and minors were permitted to play the machines and punch boards. The clean-up of the devices was started about 2:30 yesterday afternoon and continued until about 8 o'clock last evening.

Outlying service stations and punch rooms in the vicinity of Dixon and places of business in Amboy furnished the bulk of the machines. In Amboy it was reported that word was sent out when Deputy Sheriff Miller seized the first machine and that several were removed and hidden before the places were visited. A checkup of violations by the operation of the machines is said to have been taken and a list of all owners or places in which the machines were housed, was completed and in the possession of the sheriff.

To Be Destroyed

State's Attorney Keller this morning indicated that the slot machines would be destroyed as gambling devices. In each instance, the name of the owner of the machine was taken. This is said to have revealed the operation of several agents in Dixon who have placed the machines in places of business, while in other cases the machines were owned outright by the proprietors. Some of the distributors called upon by Sheriff Richardson and State's Attorney Keller today to ascertain the action to be taken against the slot machines, many of which are reported to be scattered over the county. In each instance, the distributors were cited the state law governing slot machines.

Some of the machines seized by the Sheriff's forces were of the penny "three jacks" type and these were also to be destroyed, according to the State's Attorney's decision to the money taken from the machines. It was also indicated that might be turned over to the Welfare committee fund in Dixon.

Inverted Outside Loop Accomplished

Los Angeles, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Slade Hulbert, veteran flier, has accomplished one of the most difficult feats of aeronautics—an inverted outside loop.

Hulbert flying a small monoplane powered with a 110-horsepower motor performed the feat at Los Angeles municipal airport late yesterday before a group of commercial pilots.

The inverted outside loop differs from the outside loop in that the pilot starts at the bottom while flying upside down, and climbs to the top of the turn, and down again, instead of making a diving start. The pilot is on the outside of the arc at all times and both the plane and pilot are subjected to terrific strain.

Records failed to show that any other civilian ever accomplished the feat, although Hulbert said he thought several United States Army pilots had made such loops.

LINCOLN STATUE MAY FORM DESIGN FOR NEW STAMPS OF POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT

Move Under Way For Such Stamp If P. O. Rates Change

A reproduction of Crunelle's statue of Lincoln as a soldier in the Black Hawk War, dedicated in this city last September, may appear on U. S. postage stamps if new issues of stamps are made necessary by congressional action increasing postal rates, it was announced here today.

Through the offices of the state Post Office Commission U. S. Senator Otis Glenn and Congressman W. R. Johnson have been interested in the proposal and have pledged assistance in the move, which if accomplished, will give Dixon and Rock River valley great national and international prominence. The Post Office Memorial Commission's letter to the Senator and Congressman was:

Letter to Officials.

"The suggestion has been made by some of the prominent citizens of this vicinity that, in view of the proposed change in postal rates and the necessary new designs of stamps and the custom of the government to use the likeness of national characters such as Washington, Lincoln and Grant on its stamps, that there might be a possibility of having the proper authorities consider using, as a design for one of the new stamps, the Abraham Lincoln Statue at Dixon, showing him at the age of 23 years as a soldier in the Black Hawk War of 1832, and possibly you could be interested in presenting this proposal to the official vested with the authority to act on it or, if legislation of any kind is necessary, to take the proper action thereon. It would be a very good idea for you to cooperate insofar as you can consistently do so."

Both officials have promised aid, and Senator Glenn in asking for a small photograph of the statue to present to the Post Office Department wrote that "as soon as Congress adjourns I will see what can be done toward having the statue used in a design for one of the new stamps."

The note also asserted the innocence of City Commissioner L. B. Rogers and C. G. Bartlett, among the men indicted.

Weil, it was charged met the victims recently, telling them that he was a big real estate operator from Chicago interested in the purchase of large tracts of Indiana land. ## SHEIK CONFESSES WOMAN'S MURDER; BURNED CLOTHES

Had Planned Elopement With Pretty Wife Of Another

BY ROBERT A. ERWIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 26.—(UP)—Prosecuting Attorney A. J. David of Union county, Elizabeth, N. J., declared today that William Frazer, Rahway, N. J., had confessed to the "accidental death" of Mrs. Phoebe Stader of Rahway.

Mrs. Stader was "accidentally shot" by Frazer's 22 calibre rifle as they were riding in his automobile, David quoted Frazer as telling him. Frazer was questioned for an hour by David, M. A. Hoey, Assistant Prosecutor of Middletown, New York, and Police Chief J. Winder Bryan of Raleigh.

Frazer declared the shooting occurred in the state of New Jersey, David said. From Tuesday until Thursday of last week, it was said, Frazer carried the woman's body in his automobile to Bowling Green, Va. There he stripped and left it, burned the clothes, and departed for Raleigh.

Cause Undivulged
The causes of the shooting were not immediately divulged, but a statement was expected to be forthcoming.

As outlined by officials who participated in the grilling of Frazer here today, his story was this: Late Tuesday night a week ago he and Mrs. Stader were riding in Frazer's automobile between Rahway, N. J., and Walden, N. Y., when for some unexplained reason, Frazer became "nervous." He talked with Mrs. Stader and they decided they would take a trip south, possibly as far as Florida.

He stopped the car and got out to extricate his rifle from the back seat. In doing so—and for a reason that was not explained—the weapon was discharged, killing Mrs. Stader. With her body in the car he then drove to the home of a cousin, Ira Jensen, and told him what had occurred.

From late Tuesday night until early Thursday he drove around Rahway, then started south and drove to Bowling Green, Va., where "in broad daylight" he took the body from the car, burned the clothes and left for Raleigh.

On arriving here he stayed at the boarding house of Mrs. Louis G. Bashford, near the North Carolina state Capitol building. In a Tuesday morning newspaper here a story was published saying Frazer, living under the alias of H. G. Devin, was believed to be in Raleigh. Mrs. Bashford noted the alias, reported to police and brought about the arrest.

Rahway, N. J., Feb. 26.—(UP)—The body of Mrs. Phoebe Stader, 32, which was left near Bowling Green, Va., after she was killed, was returned to Rahway today just a few hours before William Frazer admitted at Raleigh, N. C., that he had "accidentally" killed Mrs. Stader.

The slain woman's body was brought here from Virginia where it had been found nude, mutilated and unidentified several days ago.

It was identified yesterday by the husband, Philip Stader, an unemployed workman. She is believed to have deserted him for the time being because she had been attracted to William Frazer, War veteran, church man, restaurant worker and "shiek" of Rahway, N. J., who had lost interest in his work and his home after inheriting $25,000.

Frazer was captured yesterday in Raleigh, N. C.

Mrs. Stader left her husband Feb. 16 after a family argument, and went to live at Walden, N. Y. The next day she went to New York City on what she said was to be a shopping tour, and never was seen again alive.

Three of the fugitives were captured at Phoenix and at Glendale, near here, while another was believed to have been wounded when fired upon at Glendale Wednesday.

CONFESSION OF GARY YOUTH IS GIVEN TO JURY

Admitted Attack Which State Charges Caused Girl's Death

Valparaiso, Ind., Feb. 26.—(AP)—The story of Virgil Kirkland's original statements and confession of his part in the death of 18-year-old Arlene Draves following a liquor party in Gary last Nov. 29th was told from the witness stand this morning by Night Lieutenant Jake Thixtun of the Gary police force. Kirkland is on trial in Porter county court here charged with murder on four counts.

Thixtun was the only witness called this morning, and court was recessed before defense counsel could examine him. It was regarded as certain, however, that the defense would object to the inclusion of Kirkland's written confession, made the morning after Miss Draves' death, on the grounds that the four other Gary young men, held on separate murder charges, are mentioned in it.

The court room was packed, with a large overflow that developed into a long waiting line an hour and a half before court opened. Women predominated by almost two to one.

Thixtun told of receiving a telephone call from the home of Dr. R. O. Wharton, where Kirkland and his companions had taken Miss Draves, and whence they had fled when Dr. Wharton told them she was dead.

Forced Attention
Early the next morning, Thixtun said, he quizzed Kirkland at the police station. He said that Kirkland had been drinking and that the defendant told of having slapped Miss Draves to bring her out of a stupor. Kirkland, Thixtun said, broke down completely when he went with Thixtun and the Coroner to the undertaking establishment and recounted details of the preceding night. Thixtun testified that Kirkland implicated his friends, telling of their forcing Miss Draves to yield to their attentions.

Kirkland's written statement was then introduced by the state and court was recessed.

Kirkland, in court, seems not to realize the seriousness of his position and, while for the most part silent and morose, has failed to show any deep emotion.

Evidence Of Graft At Iowa University

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Testimony of the sale of state equipment by University of Iowa employees was before the legislative committee investigating the university administration today.

W. L. Zager and C. C. Payne of Iowa City, testified yesterday they bought electric fans in June, 1929, from Roy McGinnis, university electrician. Their personal checks to McGinnis were offered in evidence.

Zager testified he bought three large fans for $62.30 after finding that the prices were higher in Iowa City stores. He related he obtained them at the university storehouse after working hours. The fans were for the Carpenters' Union, he said.

Payne said he gave a check for $20 for a smaller fan, saving about $3.50 on the transaction. "It seems to be common talk," he commented, "that Iowa City people buy goods from the storehouse."

Previously E. J. Foida of Iowa City, former university carpenter, told the committee he built kitchen cabinets for the home of W. H. Bates, University Secretary, on state time and pay.

While installing the cabinets, Foida said, he noticed two fellow state workers helping complete the interior of the house.

"Were you paid by Bates?" asked Attorney Emmet Tinley during cross examination.

"Not that I know of," was Foida's answer.

PLEDGING CREDIT OF ALL TO MAKE LOANS TO FEW CANNOT RESTORE PROSPERITY—HOOVER

If Wise, Government Should Make Loans To Whole People

Washington, Feb. 26.—(UP)—President Hoover's message vetoing the veterans loan bill follows in full text:

To the House of Representatives:

I return herewith, without my approval, H. R. 17054, "An Act to Increase the Loan Basis of Adjusted Service Certificates."

In order that it may be clearly understood, I may review that the adjusted compensation act (bonus bill) passed on May 19, 1924, awarded to 3,498,000 veterans approximately $1,365,000,000 further compensation for war service. To this sum was added 25 per cent, said to be consideration for deferring the payment until about 1945, the whole bearing 4 per cent compound interest. Immediate payment to dependents upon death was included, thus creating an endowment insurance policy represented by a certificate to each veteran showing the sum payable at the end of the period—the "face value."

Total "Face Value."
The total "face value" of the outstanding certificates today after paying the sums due of less than $50 and payments in full to dependents is $3,426,000,000 held by 3,397,000 veterans or an average of about $1,000 each.

The burden upon the country was to be an amount each year sufficient as a yearly premium to provide for the payment of the "face value" of these certificates in about 1945, and to date has involved an appropriation averaging $112,000,000 per annum. The accumulation of these appropriations is represented by government obligations deposited in a reserve fund, which fund now amounts to about $750,000,000. A loan basis to certificate holders was established equal to 60 per cent of the reserve value of the certificates, such loans now in the sixth year being authorized to 22 1/2 per cent of the "face value."

When the bonus act was passed it was upon the explicit understanding of the Congress that the matter was closed and the government would not be called upon to make subsequent enlargements. It is now proposed to enlarge the loan rate to 50 per cent of the "face value" at a low rate of interest, thus imposing a potential cash outlay upon the government of about $1,700,000,000 if all veterans apply for loans, less about $330,000,000 already loaned.

Not a Penny to Pay.
According to the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs the probable number who will avail themselves of the privilege under this bill will require approximately $1,000,000. There not being a penny in the Treasury to meet such a demand, the government must borrow this sum through the sale of reserve fund securities together with further issues or we must need impose further taxation.

The sole appeal made for the reopening of the bonus act is the claim that funds from the national Treasury should be provided to veterans in distress as the result of the drought and business depression. There are veterans unemployed and in need today in common with many others of our people. There, like the others, are being provided the basic necessities of life by the devoted committees in those parts of the country affected by the depression or drought. The governments and many employees are giving preference to veterans in employment. Their welfare is and should be a matter of concern to our people. Inquiry indicates that such care is being given throughout the country, and it also indicates that the number of veterans in need of such relief is a minor percentage of the whole.

The utility of this legislation as relief to those in distress is far less than has been disclosed. The popular assumption has been that as the certificates average $1,000 then each veteran can obtain $500 by way of a loan.

Threatens Hardships.
"But this is only an average, and more than one-half will receive less than this amount. In fact over 800,000 men will be able to borrow less than $200, and of these over 200,000 will be able to borrow only an average of $75. Furthermore, there are 100,000 veterans whose certificates have been issued recently who under the proposed law will have no loan privilege until their certificates are two years old. It is therefore urgent in any event that local committees continue relief to veterans, but this legislation would lead such local committees and employers to assume that these veterans have been provided for by the federal Treasury, and thereby threatens them with greater hardships than before."

The breach of fundamental principle in this proposal is the requirement of the Federal government to provide an enormous sum of money to a vast majority who are able to

Oddities in the NEWS

HAD RIGHT HUNCH.
Chicago, Feb. 26.—(AP)—When George Smith, 16, complained to Policemen Thomas Charles and Louis Frank that Henry Washington, 14, had just held him up with pocket knife and robbed him of $30, the officers said:

"Crank up the Lizzie; we'll find him at the nearest candy store."

And that's where Henry was, munching chocolates.

FAILED TO QUALIFY.
Washington, Feb. 26.—(AP)—One of the 15 survivors of the battleship Maine disaster has failed to qualify for a Spanish War pension.

A bill to confer a pension on 74-year-old John Feffron of Brooklyn, passed by the Senate, was blocked in the House last night when it was shown Feffron served only 53 days. Ninety days war service are required by law for pension rights.

WANTS ELEPHANT EGGS.
Detroit, Feb. 26.—(UP)—Mayor Frank Murphy's ideas on zoology suffered a sudden upset today when he received a letter from Jack Lee Bauden, Dallas, Tex., requesting a shipment of white elephant eggs from the Detroit zoo.

Bauden wrote that his uncle wished to make the Dallas zoo a present of a hatching of such eggs and that he knew Detroit had a few white elephants.

Mayor Murphy is writing to tell his Dallas correspondent that while Detroit has its share of a big city's "white elephants," none of them lay eggs.

OBLIGING COP.
Chicago, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Chicago police are called upon to do lots of things. Take what happened at the detective bureau last night as an example.

The telephone rang. Sergeant Charles Kelly answered it.

"Will you please find out for me what hospital Mrs. A. C. Hadley of 117 North Kilbourn Avenue, Chicago, is in, and wire me what her condition is," said a man's voice at the other end of the wire.

He gave his name as D. A. Wallis, 4015 Avenue Q, Birmingham, Ala.

Sergeant Kelly is an obliging fellow. He had a policeman go to the Kilbourn street address. From there he went to a hospital and make proper inquiries. Then he came back to headquarters and the following telegram was dispatched to Birmingham:

"Mrs. Hadley in Illinois Masonic hospital. Condition O. K. It's a nine-pound boy."

GREAT PLACE TO WORK.
Harbin.—(AP)—Harbin has more holidays than any other city in the world.

It has added two more, both Soviet. Lenin Day on January 31 was celebrated with as much ritual as as though Harbin were in Moscow territory. The anniversary of the death of the first Red Russians in Petrograd on January 9, 1927, was observed similarly.

Every foreign shop in the city remaining closed on both days. Not that all were sympathetic with Communists but with the Reds the most important element in the city, conducting the only trade worth speaking of, the risk of a boycott was too great to ignore their two holidays.

Harbin celebrates all Chinese holidays, Japanese holidays and other foreign holidays. Even the Fourth of July is celebrated and the King of England's birthday is observed.

Relief Headquarters Still Functioning—

MESSAGE OF DISAPPROVAL GIVEN HOUSE

Vigorous Language Is Used In Condemning Its Provisions

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Feb. 26.—(UP)—President Hoover today vetoed the veterans loan bill which Congress had passed.

He sent the bill back to Congress with a spirited message in which he pronounced the measure "unwise from the standpoint of the welfare of all the people."

The message was delivered to the House of Representatives where the veterans loan bill originated.

The President objected to the legislation on the ground that the Treasury has insufficient funds to meet increased obligation estimated by Treasury officials at a billion dollars or more. He also contended that it was unsound in principle to try to aid business by borrowing money from some of the people to give funds to those in need.

In vigorous language the Executive told how the government has spent around $5,000,000,000 for veterans relief hospitalization and welfare since the war.

Protests Increase
He pledged himself to continue these expenditures, but protested against giving increased loan allowances as an aid in the existing economic situation.

Estimating that the measure would cost approximately an additional billion dollars, Mr. Hoover said:

"There not being a penny in the Treasury to meet such a demand, the government must borrow this sum through the sale of the reserve fund securities together with further issues or we must needs impose further taxation."

"The breach of fundamental principle in this proposal is the requirement of the federal government to provide an enormous sum of money to a vast majority who are able to care for themselves and who are caring for themselves."

Will Not Aid Business
Mr. Hoover argued that the bill confers aid not only upon the needy veterans but also provides equal benefits for scores of thousands of others who are holding secure positions in the federal, state and local governments and in every profession and industry.

Answering the argument that by distributing hundreds of millions of dollars the government would aid business the President said:

"We cannot further the restoration of prosperity by borrowing from some of our people, pledging the credit of all of the people, to loan to some of our people who were James Bennet of the money. The theory of stimulation is based upon the anticipation of wasteful expenditure. It can be of no assistance in the return of real prosperity. If this argument of proponents is correct we should make government loans to the whole people."

Call To Doctor Clue To Robbery

Chicago, Feb. 26.—(UP)—A call to a doctor gave police a clue that led today to the arrest of two youths, one of whom had been shot four times by Joseph White, State's Attorney John A. Swanson's personal bodyguard, after White was held up.

The youths were James Bennet, 19, and William Hjort, 17. Hjort was wounded by the shots fired by White who identified the pair as the bandits who robbed him of $200.

Police were searching for the robbers when Dr. Fred Sonnenfeld notified them that he had been called to treat a boy suffering from four bullet wounds.

Detectives went to the address given by the physician but failed to find Hjort. Five women who were living at the place were questioned for several hours, finally revealing the whereabouts of Hjort and Bennet.

The hurricane, which occurred a few days ago, was reported to have blown a train off the rails, causing many casualties. The lighthouse at Nadi was blown away.

The hurricane was felt along only a narrow strip of territory, outside of which the country was unaffected.

Many Receiving Help

Among those who would receive the proposed benefits are included 387,000 veterans and 400,000 dependents, who are already receiving some degree of allowance or support from the Federal government. But in addition to these, it provides equal benefits for scores of thousands of others who are in the income-tax paying class, and for scores of thousands who are holding secure positions in the Federal, state, and local governments and in every profession and industry. I know that most of these men do not seek these privileges, they have no desire to be presented to the American people as beneficiaries by a burden upon the whole people, and I have many manifestations from veterans on whom the times are bearing hardly that they do not want to be presented to our people as a group substituting special privilege for the idealism and patriotism they have rejoiced in offering to their country through their service.

It is suggested as a reason for making these provisions applicable to all veterans, that we should not make public distinction between veterans in need and the others who comprise the vast majority test we characterize those deserving help as a pauper class. On the contrary, veterans in need are and should be a preferred class, that a grateful country would be proud to honor with its support. Adoption of the principle of aid to the rich or to those able to support themselves in itself sets up a group of special privilege among our citizens.

Have Spent $5,000,000,000

The principle that the nation should give generous care to those veterans who are ill, disabled, in need or in distress, even though these disabilities do not arise from the war, has been fully accepted by the nation. Pensions or allowances have been provided for the dependents of those who lost their lives in the war; allowances have been provided to those who suffered disabilities from the war; additional allowances were passed at the last session of Congress to all the veterans whose earning power is impaired by injury or illness; free hospitalization is available not only to those suffering from the results of war but to large numbers of temporarily ill. Together with war-risk insurance and the adjusted compensation, these services now total an annual expenditure of approximately $600,000,000 and under existing laws will increase to $800,000,000 per annum in a very few years for World War veterans alone. A total of five thousand million dollars has been expended upon such services since the war.

Our country has thus shown its sense of obligation and generosity, and its readiness at all times to aid those of its veterans in need. I have the utmost confidence that our service men would be amongst the first to oppose a policy of government assistance to veterans who have property and means to support themselves, for service men are as devoted to the welfare of our country as peace as in war and as clearly foresee the future dangers of embarking on a policy which would ultimately react against those who should be given care.

On Theory of Waste

It is argued that the distribution of the hundreds of millions of dollars proposed by this bill would stimulate business generally. We can not further the restoration of prosperity by borrowing from some of our people, pledging the credit of all of the people, to loan to some of our people who are not in need of the money. If the exercise of these rights were limited to expenditure upon necessities only, there would be no stimulation to business. The theory of stimulation is based upon the anticipation of wasteful expenditure. It can be of no assistance in the return of real prosperity. If this argument of proponents is correct, we should make government loans to the whole people.

It is represented that this measure merely provides loans against a future obligation and that therefore, it will cost the American people nothing. That is an incomplete statement. A cost at once arises to the people when instead of proceeding by annual appropriation the government is forced to secure a huge sum by borrowing or otherwise, especially in the circumstances of today when we are compelled in the midst of depression to make other large borrowings to cover deficits and refunding operations.

Increased Interest

An increased rate of interest which the government must pay upon all long-term issues is inevitable. It imposes an additional burden of interest on the people which will extend through the whole term of such loans. Some cost arises to the people through the tendency to increase the interest rates which every state and municipality must pay in their borrowing for public works and improvements. As well as the rate which industry and business must pay. There is a cost to some one through the retardation of the speedy recovery of employment when government borrowing diverts the savings of the people from their use by constructive industry and commerce. It imposes a great charge upon the individual who loses such increased employment or continues unemployed.

New, chic and an exclusive hat that not everyone can wear is the modified Watteau, which makes its appearance this spring as a gallant gesture backwards to the ultra-feminine modes of another day. This charming version is a medium brimmed cellophane yedda straw braid, in gleaming navy blue, with Ottoman faille ribbon for its banding and its bandeau.

Club to Hear Talk On "American Home"

On Saturday afternoon at the Christian church the Dixon Woman's club will hold an unusually interesting meeting.

The speaker is Mrs. Wilbur E. Fribley, state chairman of the American Home Dept.

It is a rare privilege to have a state chairman address a club and Mrs. O. F. Goeke, who was instrumental in securing Mrs. Fribley is to be congratulated.

The American home is the basis for all development in Women's Club work and is the inspiration for all accomplishments in any of the various departments. It of necessity requires a capable and intellectual woman to head this division of the federated clubs. Mrs. Fribley seems to have all the requirements of a splendid executive and an ideal home-maker. She is a fluent speaker and possesses a charming personality.

The women of Dixon should be most anxious to hear her on this keenly interesting subject, "The American Home."

Preceding the address the members of the Literature department, will give a walking rehearsal of the 1929 Illinois state prize play, "Between Trains." Mrs. Kline, Mrs. Eichler, Mrs. Bartholomew and Mrs. Weiss comprise the committee.

As usual the meeting is open to the public upon payment of a small guest fee.

S. and S. Bridge Club Met Tuesday

The S. and S. Bridge club met with Mrs. Frank Ortiguesen Tuesday evening and it proved to be one of the most delightful meetings the club has held. Mrs. Chas. The next meeting of the club will be held March 10th, with Miss Rose Rudolph.

PARIS FASHIONS

By MARY KNIGHT
 (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris (UP)—One of the loveliest collar-capes to be worn with an afternoon gown of pearl grey chiffon is headed all over with infinitesimal specks of crystal.

The length of the cape when thrown over the shoulders is just to the bend in the elbow. It can either tie in a small bow with long ends at the throat, or the ends may be brought under the arms and tied in a flat bow at the back thus giving it an entirely different appearance.

The material employed is crepe de chine in four shades of grey. The first is almost white but with a slate cast. Each strip of material is about three and a half to four inches in width. The next is about the same pearl grey as the dress over which it should be worn and the others graduate in depth until the last one looks almost black.

With it is carried a pouch pocket book beaded in the same manner and made of the same varied tones but in inch widths, the lightest beginning at the clasp and the darkest forming the bottom of the bag.

Optional is a small toque which entirely covers the hair. Its utility is in the fact that it can be worn for tea parties in the afternoon as well as with a formal evening gown. For the evening the addition of an aigrette is featured by Worth, pale pink or white being his selection and fastened on with a jeweled ornament. Worth really prefers the aigrette worn only in the hair and not on the toque as the effect is more unusual.

Philadelphia Mayor Sleeps In Shelter

Philadelphia, Feb. 26—(AP)—In order to get first hand information concerning the manner in which a shelter for homeless men is being conducted, Mayor Harry A. Mackey has eaten and slept in the shelter disguised as one of the employed.

His makeup was so good he was not even recognized by guards assigned to the executive offices at City Hall.

Instead of a modishly attired Chief Magistrate, he emerged a shambling figure with unkempt hair and a set of whiskers. He wore a dotted blue shirt open at the neck, old corduroy coat, baggy trousers, squeaky shoes and battered felt hat.

He has played three one-night stands at the shelter during the last two weeks and found the food and sleeping accommodations "excellent."

The mayor made these disclosures during a conference with a committee which asked that the city appropriate $9,000,000 for the unemployed and that jobless men be paid $15 a week.

He was chairman of the General Sunday School committee of the Mennonite church in the United States and was a member of the National Mennonite Board of Education. The widow, two daughters, a son and Mr. Oyer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Oyer of St. Johns, Mich., survive.

Twin Birthstones for the March-Born

By K. DORSAY

ASTROLOGERS predict that 1931 is going to be a very busy and energetic year for those persons born in March. You must take care, first of all, not to overwork mentally, and it might result in nervous breakdown. Events of an unexpected nature are likely to occur, and responsibilities may be thrust upon you suddenly; these may make you worried and high-strung, and you will find that a walk in the outdoors—even for a few moments—will be a helpful tonic. Your birthstone—the aquamarine, and Arles, the zodiacal sign under which you were born, have to do with light and air, and you must never attempt working or living in dark, depressing quarters.

As a March-born, you are essentially clever, ingenious and shrewd, but you must curb a tendency to be intolerant of those less gifted than you.

A natural leader, you must always be at the head of things, or you are apt to lose your initiative. For the quick co-operation you need on any project, to keep your interest from waning, be careful to select associates and employees born in May, under the sign of Gemini. There is a double affinity between those born in March and May.

Pliny once said that "there is not a color more pleasing to the eye" and it was his description—"It imitates the greenness of the clear sea"—that the aquamarine derived its name. Remarkable for its transparency, it possesses the merit of preserving its purity of tint in artificial light. The transparency of an aquamarine crystal, found in Brazil—where incidentally some of the best stones are found—was so perfect that objects could be seen through it, end to end.

The aquamarine is symbolic of happiness in marriage. It is also said to be a counteracting force against the excitement and activity incurred by Mars, the ruling planet of Arles. It is doubly fortunate that you have a further man for this month—the bloodstone. Contrary to what its name implies, the bloodstone is not entirely red. It is a chalcidony mottled with Jasper, which gives the bloodstone its red coloring.

J. Pierpont Morgan, born under the sign of Arles, is responsible for the collection of aquamarines in the American Museum of Natural History in New York. To celebrate this interest of his, another stone—similar to the aquamarine in construction but of a pink tint—has been given his name, and is now called "morganite."

The value of any stone depends upon its rarity. For this reason many beautiful but abundant stones do not receive their proper due, particularly if they happen to resemble a more perfect one of the same genre. In the case of the aquamarine, however, and despite its emerald-like qualities—it has always had a place of its own in the gem world. Right now it is immensely fashion-important.

YALE BUREAU SWAMPED BY JOB HUNTERS

Officials Invent Work for Students Seeking Employment

By WILLIAM D. CLARK
 United Press Staff Correspondent

New Haven, Conn.—Unemployment is an old story at the Yale University Bureau of Appointments.

Every year at least 1,500 undergraduates beseege the bureau seeking "anything to get along" until they have completed their studies. This year, with the continued general unemployment and more students than ever seeking full or part-time work, college employment authorities were at their wits end thinking up new lines of student employment.

A few of the jobs they finally were able to distribute were:

Acting as pall bearers at $1.50 to $2 per funeral.
 Playing nursemaid to Junior while the parents are out at bridge. (Considered a difficult job and one requiring rare diplomacy.)

Submitting to blood transfusions at $25 per operation.

Answering night calls at doctors' and undertakers' offices.

Tutoring wealthy students.

Soliciting laundry, tailoring work, magazine subscriptions, insurance and other sales work.

Many students whose families were well-to-do before the business depression and the stock market crash found it necessary to apply for work this year, according to Professor Albert B. Crawford, director of personnel.

Increased scholarships have helped many but the bureau still has a difficult problem in the adventuresome student who arrives in town with nothing but a few dollars and a desire for an education, says Crawford.

MELBA IS BURIED

The entire city was hushed as the funeral procession passed through the city's streets. Prior to burial at Lily Dale cemetery thousands filed past the flag-draped coffin lying in state at the Scottish church.

THEY STILL FALL IN LOVE.

A writer in the March issue of Harper's Magazine complains that romantic love has lost its power over the imagination of the race. Young lovers don't go in for poetry much nowadays. Magazines find in love a topic for cynical humor. The wise-crack has replaced the time-honored sonnet. Love is no longer considered sacred, and the ancient belief that the world can be well lost for love finds few adherents.

All of this, if true, is rather unfortunate; for while romantic love occasionally brings a good deal of suffering to those whom it possesses, it has added greatly to the world's store of beauty and loveliness, and we should have a hard time finding a substitute. But surface indications can be very misleading, and one is entitled to doubt that people today are much different than their grandparents under the skin.

To be sure, there is a great deal of jesting about love these days. There is also a great deal of analysis and dissection, and there are ominous statistics about divorce to make the sky look dark. But does it all really mean anything?

To get the answer, probably, one should not go to writers or students at all. One should forget all about books and magazines and plays and collegiate jokes, and go to the original sources—to the people, in other words, who really are in love.

That would not be hard to do. Any wanderer in any city can find them on ever yside. Whence come these silent couples that stand in doorways, prolonging a good-night kiss, oblivious of the passersby in the street? Whence come these couples on park benches, who forget about the glare of the lamps that throws their joined heads into relief, and find in each other's nearness something that can blot out the whole city? Whence come those strange, mystic glances that one is continually glimpsing on faces that drift by in a crowd, as if boys and girls by the myriad were going to meet a glamorous and ecstatic destiny?

All of these people could tell you. But they are not given to the traditional modes of expression. The modern girl may be as distracted by some boy's smile as her sentimental grandmother ever thought of being, but she doesn't moon about the house and drape herself listlessly over a sofa for hours of dreaming. She goes about her regular routine, and usually no one but the boy himself knows just how she feels about it. And the boy fails to go into those trance-like states common to an earlier day, and he fails to write atrocious poetry when he should be sleeping; but are there no longer any young men who act like simpletons because of some girl's shining eyes? Their name is legion, now as of old.

There are many things in the world today about which one can worry. But the imminent disappearance of romantic love is not one of them.

LOST IN THE SHUFFLE.

The greatest defect of the short session of Congress is the fact that many meritorious bills fail of passage simply because the shortage of time prevents them from getting a hearing.

A case in point is the bill now pending to repeal the wartime espionage act. This act—an emergency war measure—is still a law, although inoperative except for a section which gives the Postoffice Department the power to exclude from mails any matter it considers seditious. Senator Walsh of Montana has introduced a repealer, which the Senate has passed; but the extreme congestion of the House calendar makes it probable that the repealer will simply die of neglect.

It would be a good thing for the country to get this law off its statute books. It is a pity that the legislative jam which is an inevitable accompaniment of the out-moded short session is apt to prevent its passage.

WILL THEY RETURN?

It is gratifying to learn that our marines are to be withdrawn from Nicaragua. The government shouldered a thankless job when it sent them down there, and probably no one will be more relieved to have them return than official Washington.

Nevertheless, there may be in the land a few skeptics who will believe in the marines' return only when they see it. If you will let your memory wander back a few years, you may recall that the marines were to have returned as soon as the 1928 election had been held. The election was held—and a good job the marines did in that connection, incidentally—but the marines stayed. Now we are told that they will be pulled back after the 1932 election. Well—we can but hope for the best.

All writers who have had manuscripts rejected will envy the position of Erich Remarque, author of "All Quiet on the Western Front." With 21 publishers after his next book, he must reject 20 of them.

"Let's hope there'll be no hard feelings," as wary patient said to the chiropractor.

(READ THE STORY. THEN COLOR THE PICTURE.)

"Hey! Quit it!" Clowny loudly cried. "I wonder how I will get dried. The elephant can sure aim right. He soaked me through and through. Perhaps, with him, that's simply play, but I think I'll be on my way. I only wish that he would soak one of the rest of you."

Said Scouty, "Well, sir, as for me, I'll be scarce as I can be. I fear the husky elephant is full of tricks like that." The elephant raised his trunk up high and, as we Scouty scampered by, he snorted with his lumber trunk and off went Scouty's hat.

The Travel Man then said, "Well, we will find some other sights to see. This zoo is full of animals. Come on, we'll see them all. But, lest you want some sudden scares, stay far away from all the bear." And then they stomped and listened to a squeaky sort of call.

"What's that?" asked Corpy. "Let's go see! It sounded funny as could be." "Why that came from the monkey cage," the Travel Man replied. "We'll visit there before we're through, but there are other things to do." He turned into a lane, with all the Tynites by his side.

"Oh look!" cried Corpy. "Me, oh my! That thing's head's way up near the sky. I like giraffes. Let's call on him and see what he will do." "All right," snapped Scouty. "I am game." They found the big giraffe was tame. Then Clowny Clowny shouted, "Watch me, lads. I'll show you something new."

He walked up to the big giraffe and all the bunch began to laugh. Then Clowny shouted, "Watches! I may wind up a wreck." He promptly, on the slim beast's back and then, amid the cheers of all, he climbed right up its neck.

(A little monkey plays a trick on Clowny in the next story)

VICTOR HUGO'S BIRTH

On Feb. 26, 1802, Victor Hugo, the greatest French poet of his century, a distinguished dramatist, novelist, essayist and politician, was born at Besancon, France.

As a child he was taken in the train of his father, a French general, through southern France and finally into Spain, where his education was begun at Nobles' College, Madrid.

Hugo married a cousin in 1822. Four years later his tragedy "Cromwell" established him the leader of the romantic movement in literature. With the success of his "Ruy Blas" the French academy admitted Hugo to its membership.

To distract himself from the grief occasioned by the drowning of his daughter, Hugo plunged into politics. Created a peer in 1845, he sat in the Constituent Assembly of France. When he was banished from the country by Louis Napoleon, Hugo went Brussels and London where he began his "Les Miserables," perhaps his greatest work.

He died in Paris at the age of 83.

Daily Health Talk

PROPER HYGIENE

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

AUTOS AND HEALTH

Much has been said in recent years, and there is good cause for saying it, relative to the health hazard associated with too much smoke in the air and particularly with the presence of too much gas of one type or another.

Recently a committee appointed by the chief of police in Paris to investigate the presence of noxious fumes and gases escaping from motor cars in that city where taxicabs are profuse finds that the situation in Paris is no more healthful than in any other place in the world.

Incidentally, it is found that motor cars standing still with the motor running gives off more dangerous gas than none running with a load on the road. Smoke escaping from a motor car emanates from the lubricating oil. It is not directly related to the carbon monoxide that may be present in the exhaust gas. Overriding is certainly not a mechanical advantage for the car and should be avoided because it is a nuisance in the smoke that it creates.

When the Paris authorities examined the situation so far as carbon monoxide was concerned, they found that it never reached an amount sufficiently great to cause serious symptoms. Moreover, the amount present 10 yards in the air was greater than at ground level. They did find that the amount of carbon monoxide present was quite sufficient to damage sensitive trees, even if it did not cause noticeable symptoms in human beings.

It is the belief of the Paris authorities that both the smoke and carbon monoxide are the result of imperfect combustion, and that the control of visible smoke will also bring about control of the carbon monoxide. They therefore recommend the passing of laws which will penalize any driver whose car is giving off undue quantities of visible smoke.

Engineers recognize that the modern gas engine represents a high form of development in the nature of efficiency, but that further improvements are possible so far as concerns complete combustion of fuel gas and the proper use of motor oil.

The French commission recommends particularly that further studies be made with a view to increasing the efficiency of the motors to avoid the possibility of dangerous exhaust gases. Several years ago the suggestion was made in this country that means be developed for releasing the exhaust at a point well above the top of the car. Unfortunately the idea did not seem to meet with popular approval and, so far as known, no practical device for this purpose has yet been developed or adopted by any manufacturer of motor vehicles.

Mine Leaders Are To Confer Further

Chicago, Feb. 25.—(UP)—Factional leaders of the United Mine Workers of America have been unable to compose their differences and will continue their meeting seeking a compromise, mine union officials announced today.

"The fundamental differences of belief over policy and the administration of President John L. Lewis continue to hinder a settlement," Floyd E. Thompson, attorney for the Illinois faction, which broke with Lewis some time ago, said.

An 18-hour conference was held yesterday by representatives of the Lewis and Illinois factions. No agreement was reached and it was decided to meet again later this week.

The immediate purpose of the conference is to prepare a decree for submission to Circuit Judge Harry Edwards of Dixon, Ill. Edwards ordered the decree in his decision of an injunction suit made last week.

Body Of Murdered Woman Identified

Rahway, N. J., Feb. 25.—(UP)—Authorities prepared today to arrange to bring William Frazer, 31, arrested in Raleigh, N. C., for questioning in connection with the death of Mrs. Phoebe Stader whose nude and mutilated body was found Sunday near Bowling Green, Va.

Identification of the body of Powling Green was made, according to word from there, by Mrs. Stader's husband, Henry and by her sister.

Frazer, arrested in front of the Raleigh postoffice, refused to comment on the case, which Detective Roy Martin asserts is murder.

The hunt for Frazer started when Ira Jansen, his cousin, told police Frazer awakened him last Wednesday morning and said:

"I have killed Mrs. Stader and I have her body outside in the car." Jansen said he rode around in the car with Frazer, who had decided to commit suicide. The body of Mrs. Stader, he declared, was in the back seat. Frazer "did not have nerve enough to kill himself," Jansen said, and decided instead to take the body on a trip.

FOES OF MAYOR. THOMPSON HOPE TO UNITE MOVE

Plead That Independent Candidates Stay Out
Of Coming Fight

Chicago, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Opponents of "Big Bill" Thompson's election as World's Fair mayor of Chicago, were pleading today for a united fight against the mayor.

Their pleas took the form of opposition to the independent candidacy of Coroner Herman Bundesen, a Democrat, announced yesterday. Bundesen's name was entered by the People's Nonpartisan Ticket, as an opponent of Thompson and Anton J. Cermak, Chairman of the Cook County Board, who was nominated by the Democrats Tuesday when "Big Bill" defeated Judge John H. Lyle, "gangster nemesis" and others in the Republican primary.

Among those disapproving of Bundesen's candidacy was Col. Robert Isham Randolph, president of the Association of Commerce and a leading figure in its efforts to keep down crime in Chicago. Col. Randolph sent a letter to the Coroner in which he said:

"Without regard to your availability or capability for the office of Mayor of Chicago, permit me to state that I believe that your candidacy will have the sole effect of dividing the opposition and insuring the election of William Hale Thompson."

Without mentioning Bundesen's name, Charles E. Merriam, south side leader who supported Alderman Arthur F. Albert in the Republican primary, issued a statement in which he said:

"It is to be hoped that an independent candidate will not be brought in as he can only confuse the issue and make possible what the overwhelming majority of the people of Chicago clearly do not want, namely the re-election of Thompson."

Meanwhile Mayor Thompson and Cermak were being swamped with congratulations over their victories last Tuesday and Coroner Bundesen, who was once a member of Thompson's cabinet, said he was getting into the race at the urging of "tens of thousands of Chicagoans." As coroner he has attracted attention with independent investigations of gangland murders.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Baseball Gossip

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 26.—(AP)

—Ted Lyons, who won 22 games for a feeble Chicago White Sox club last season and Urban (Red) Faber, dean of American League pitchers, are not agreed on what the new ball is likely to do for hurlers.

Lyons, whose specialty is the knuckle-ball, thinks the pitchers will benefit by the raised stitches, while Uncle Urban, who has been doesn't like it because he believes the stitches will afford more resistance and that he says, is no help to spitball hurlers.

Avalon, Cal., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Three recruits, two pitchers and an outfielder, have caught Rogers Hornsby's eye and appear to be set for a season of employment with the Chicago Cubs.

The hurlers, Ed Baecht and Lon Warneke, have progressed rapidly enough to cause the Rajah to give them lots of personal attention. The outfielder, Vincent Barton, who also first bases some, yesterday was the big shot in batting practice, driving the ball even farther than the mighty Hack Wilson.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Manager Donie Bush promised Chicago White Sox pitchers they might bat today, but attached such a price to the privilege that enthusiasm waned somewhat.

For each time at bat, the hurlers must do a turn around the quarter-mile cinder track surrounding the park at a brisk gait.

Although the second squad is not due until next Monday, Ray Radcliffe from the Sally League, who is scheduled to play first base, was expected to report today.

California's Chief Executive A Pilot

Sacramento, Cal., Feb. 26.—(AP)—California's flying Governor sprouted wings today.

A student permit from the Federal Department of Commerce was presented Governor James Rolph, Jr., by Adjutant General Seth Howard, who said the Governor was the first state executive in the United States to enter the rank of pilots.

California aviation enthusiasts had no idea of letting "Sunny Jim's" serial bent stop there. A cabin plane for the Governor's own was provided for in a clause of the pending budget.

The Governor's son is a full fledged pilot.

Big Business Plan Urged In Saving Nature

Columbus, Ohio.—"For the sake of their health and recreation and of the scenic beauty and economic stability of the nation, the American people have now become sufficiently interested in the restoration of forests, pure waterways and wild life to demand sound planning and concerted action in this direction from all states and organizations," Seth Gordon, president of the American Game Association, told the Ohio Conservation Council Rally in his first and keynote address as head of the national conservation group.

"Arousing public opinion will not long tolerate peanut stand methods in handling great business assets," Mr. Gordon declared. "Game restoration alone is officially estimated to be worth a billion dollars low ebb game stock has reached in many sections and does not consider the value of game as an encouragement to outdoor recreation. Conservation is a big business and needs big business methods."

"The interest of individuals as such can not be expected to solve our problems," he said. "Organization is imperative. Public opinion can be crystallized into action only through proper and cooperative development of official leadership."

Mr. Gordon declared the American Game Policy recently adopted by representatives of the nation's sportsmen, and offering practical encouragement to landowners in game raising, was the restoration. "It was inevitable that we should blunder and learn by experience in the past," he declared, "but that will not excuse our failure to adopt comprehensive measures now."

WARNER, PREMIER GRIDIRON COACH, IS QUEER PERSON

Would Rather Tinker On Old Automobile Than Do Anything Else

By RUSSELL J. NEWLAND

Palo Alto, Cal., Feb. 26—(AP)—Glenn Scooby Warner, at 60, is one of football's greatest strategists. His teams have made gridiron history, but he thinks he should have stuck to baseball.

For it was baseball—not the game to which he has contributed so brilliantly—that gave him his greatest thrill. That came the time he caught his first ball game at Springfield, N. Y., in the late eighties. He put two hits. Still insists the umpire gyped him out of a third.

The rules of football have been changed time and again because of his creative genius. He brought out the hidden ball trick in 1897. The backfield man stuck the ball up the back of his jersey. Rules were changed to meet the emergency. Then he sewed halves of cheap footballs on the players' jerseys. More rule changes.

He introduced the football crouch. He gave the game the wing back formation, also the unbalanced backfield. He originated the seven-pass, devised the solid thigh pads, improved shoulder pads, remodeled many other appliances.

Corkscrew Punch
Yet none of his football achievements give him more satisfaction than telling of the time he was heavyweight boxing champion at Cornell. He will stop in the middle of a street to demonstrate his corkscrew punch. It won him the title.

As a boy, his playmates nicknamed him "Butter." He looked like a mound of hay. His brothers Bill and Fred say he was the laziest kid in Texas. All Glenn wanted to do was make playthings and eat and sleep.

To keep from working, he went to college. His dad gave him a hundred dollars, tuition fee then at Cornell. He got to New York and went to the horse races at Saratoga. The bookmakers pocketed his $100. He borrowed another century note and lost it playing poker. Persuaded Cornell authorities to let him enter on deferred payments. Worked as a waiter and painted and sold pictures of sunsets, trees, cows and what not to pay the tuition.

He played guard for Cornell. Team mates hung the moniker "Pop" on him. He looked like an old man. Didn't set the football world on fire but was captain and coach in last year—1892.

Always Figuring Plays

He has a fine home in Palo Alto but spends most of his time in a workshop in his garage, always figuring out football plays. Diagrams can be found on the back of sandpaper and boards in his workshop. On every piece of paper in his pockets. He deposited a check in the bank. It had three plays on the back of it. But no signature. At lunquets he draws on napkins and takes them home.

He would rather tinker than eat. Buys up old automobiles so he can fix them. Has three rattle trap veterans. Two are nine years old, the other eight. Has an expensive car but never uses it. He will miss dinner to file a saw for the carpenter across the street. Will walk a couple of blocks anytime to take a clock to pieces.

Loves golf but claims the club-makers don't know their business. Made his own set. He shoots in the 90's. Favorite club is his "all-purpose baby." It is made of wood, with more loft than a spoon.

Plays for Side-Bets
Won't play unless there is a side bet. Won 50 cent once. Talked of it for a week. Dick Haney, coach at Northwestern, shoots ten strokes better than the old man but never has beaten him. Pop's golf rules include talking, laughing, coughing and singing.

Try to hook him on a nickel bet and he'll use vile language. But he gives away two and three hundred dollars at a time to needy friends.

He is a director in a bank here. Owns several houses but is always forgetting to collection the rent. Is a football syndicate writer and writes his own copy. Hasn't the slightest idea how much money he is worth. When he is deeply engrossed in taking an auto apart, other business can wait. Kept a party calling from New York waiting on the line for five minutes while he cleaned a sparkplug.

He is not demonstrative in football season. Seldom gets off the bench, where he smokes incessantly. Only time the boys saw him give vent to his emotions was after Stanford lost to Southern California in 1928. There were a couple of tear drops in his eyes. Thought his team should have won that game.

The first games of the spring independent basketball tournament, which has brought together 16 of the fastest organizations in the northern section of the state, were played last evening on the new Moose hall floor. The first eight teams competed and were either qualified to enter the semi-finals or were eliminated from further play. Two local teams are entered in the tournament, the Dixon Battery Shop five having been successful in defeating Walnut by a score of 32 to 10 in a one-sided contest which did not get under way until the second quarter as far as the locals were concerned and one in which every eligible player had a chance to show his wares.

The Dixon Cab Co. team was less fortunate and was up against stiff competition in the Princeton independents, who held the local's to a 44 to 30 count. This was probably the roughest game of the evening and the fans who waited for the last contest were amply repaid.

Tonight is expected to see the best teams in action. From advance reports, two independent teams at Belvidere have within the last two weeks consolidated and will appear under the name of the Belvidere Moose in the second game on this evening's card. The final game between Mt. Morris and DeKalb is expected to furnish its share of thrills. Large delegations of fans will accompany several of the visiting delegations this evening.

SPORT BRIEFS

Chicago, Feb. 26 —(UP)—Bobby Jones will be awarded the James E. Sullivan Memorial trophy as the outstanding amateur sportsman for 1930 at a testimonial dinner given by the A. A. U. at the Madison Athletic Club tonight.

Jones arrived yesterday from Atlanta en route to Hollywood, where he will make a series of twelve one-reel educational talking pictures on golf. He waived his rights as an amateur who he signed the contract for a reputed sum of $250,000 last November 13.

The golf champion reiterated today that he never would again play in tournament golf, and that all his future golf play would be confined to "matches for fun."

He said he had been playing golf two or three times a week, and was in good physical condition, weighing about 170. He plans to leave tomorrow for California, where he will remain six weeks or two months.

Chicago, Feb. 26—(UP)—Equipose, winter book favorite for the Kentucky Derby, has been nominated for the $70,000 added Arlington Park Classic at that race track in July. The Whitney horse is wintering at the old Benning race course near Washington.

Evanston, Ill., Feb. 26—(UP)—Northwestern's baseball team will tour the southwest this spring, playing a series of games with Baylor University, University of Texas, Rice Institute and other schools in that section. The Wildcats will leave March 28.

Jersey City, N. J., Feb. 26—(UP)—Tony Canzoneri of New York, lightweight champion of the world, scored a one-round technical knockout over Joey Kaufman, also of New York, in a scheduled 10-round, non-title fight here last night.

The bout was halted after two minutes and one second of fighting when Kaufman went down for the sixth time.
The champion weighted 131, Kaufman 137 1-2.

Chicago, Feb. 26 — (AP) — The Women's Western golf association open championship tournament will be decided over the Midlothian Country Club course, Chicago, June 22-26.

Two of three other major events will be held in Chicago, with the remaining one, the 72-hole medal play derby, will be played at Buffalo, N. Y., during the week preceding the women's national title event which will be held September 21-26. The junior championship has been awarded to the La Grange Country Club for July 7-10, while the match play classic will be held at Exmoor August 24-29.

Chicago, Feb. 26 — (AP) — The world's best ex-amateur tennis player is still the master of the official world's professional champion.

For the sixth time in as many matches on their tour, William Tilden II has taken the measure of Karel Kozeluh, the Czechoslovakian. Tilden exhibited much of the mastery that gained him seven American amateur titles in downing Kozeluh in an abbreviated match at the Stadium last night, 7-5, 2-6, 6-3. Illness prevented the Czech from continuing the match, scheduled for three out of five sets, but none of the 9,000 fans doubted that the outcome have been different over the longer route.

WILSON AND RUTH BOTH ARE AFTER THE KINGSHIP

Cub Slugger And Yankee Star Determined To Hit Most Homers

By DIXON STEWART

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, Feb. 26—(UP)—Babe Ruth's efforts to regain his home run laurels and incidentally to earn renewal of his $80,000 contract, promise added color for the 1931 baseball season.

It was a decided blow to Ruth's pride when Hack Wilson of the Chicago Cubs won the 1930 crown with 56 home runs to his 49, and he is determined to prove Wilson a mere pretender.

Adoption of the new "dead" ball virtually ended Ruth's hopes of surpassing his own major league record of 60 in a single season—a feat he believes he would have accomplished last year if he had not been handicapped by injuries—but he is supremely confident that he can regain baseball's slugging honors.

Babe believes the "dead" ball has made his 60 mark safe for all time and critics agree. Even if the new ball should turn out to be as lively as the old, they say the larger stitching and heavier cover will improve curve ball pitching and handicap the free swinging home run sluggers.

However, Ruth maintains that the changed ball will be less handicap to him than to his rivals.

"I hit homers before the rabbit ball was introduced," he said. "I'll still hit them with the new ball, but the wild swingers who have been dumping homers over short fences will find plenty of trouble."

Wants Crown Back

Desire to regain the home run crown has influenced Ruth to start training far in advance of other players. He took an intensive six weeks gymnasium training course and now is in Florida playing golf. When he reports for official training with the Yankees early in March he expects to be in the best condition of his career.

The 1931 season will be Ruth's last under his current contract, calling for $60,000 per season, and the prospect of new contract negotiations next spring also are an important factor in his efforts to make the 1931 season one of his best.

What with business depression, the approaching end of his career, and overreaching ability, Ruth faces the realization that his chances of securing another $80,000 contract are poor unless he has a great season. The Babe likes his huge pay check almost as much as he does his home runs and will be fighting to assure its continuance.

Hack Wilson, Babe's rival, also is making plans to capture the 1931 home run championship. His 1930 performance will net him approximately $70,000 in salary, endorsements and side revenue, and Hack will not give up the laurels without a determined struggle.

When he signed his new contract with the Cubs, reported to call for a salary of $35,000 Wilson told President Bill Veeck: "I may not beat Babe out again this year, but I'll be in there swinging. If he hits more homers than I do he'll have to go some!"

WALKER PUNCHES OUT VICTORY IN MIAMI LAST EVE

Overcomes Big Weight Disadvantage To Trim Risko

By ALAN GOULD

Miami, Fla., Feb. 26—(AP)—They may have to move over later, if not this year to make room for Mickey Walker in the scramble for the world's heavyweight championship.

Less than six pounds over the limit for the middleweight class, in which he holds the world title, Walker packed enough stamina and wallop in his 165½ pounds last night to hand a convincing pasting to 194-pound Johnny Risko of Cleveland, somewhat battered reminder of the one time speller of heavyweight ambitions.

Walker won the unanimous verdict of three judges after ten slashing, bruising rounds of punch-tossing. Mickey was held close to even terms for the first eight rounds, due to Johnny's bull like charges and aggressive hammering, but Walker won the last two rounds by a wide margin. Risko was groggy in the ninth and tenth under Walker's vicious left hook and right crosses to the chin. The Associated Presses score sheet gave Mickey six rounds and Risko four.

In fine condition, Walker overcame big handicaps in weight and reach to demonstrate his ability to mix successfully in bigger company. He has not defended the middleweight crown in over a year and apparently intends to leave it on the shelf while he battles for a spot in the heavyweight picture.

There's not much chance of his figuring in the big program for 1931, however. Before Walker fought the main go last night, Max Schmeling, the German who was bequeathed the heavyweight title by boxing authorities, and his American challenger, Young Stribling, appeared in exhibitions. The winner of the Schmeling-Stribling bout, in June, is slated to defend the title against Primo Carnera.

Carnera was a spectator last night and is booked to meet Jimmy Maloney of Boston here on March 5 in the battle of the cracked rib. The box office checkup showed approximately 20,000 cash customers and gross gate receipts of $38,000.

SPEEDIEST OF NEBULA FOUND BY TELESCOPE

It Is Rushing Through Space at 11,000
Mi. Per Second

BY F. E. COLTON
Associated Press Science Writer
Washington, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Discovery of a new terrific speed among heavenly bodies was announced by the Carnegie Institution of Washington.

The faintest discovered island universe, or nebula, far out in space, apparently is rushing away from the earth at the breath-taking speed of 11,000 miles a second, sixty per cent faster than any nebula previously observed.

The discovery was made by Dr. Milton L. Humason of the Carnegie Institution's observatory at Mount Wilson, California.

The speed of this nebula exceeds that of any other known nebula roughly as much as a fast express train exceeds the speed of a slow freight.

Dr. Humason's discovery may have a bearing on Dr. Albert Einstein's studies of the nature of the universe. Einstein has been studying at Mount Wilson during his stay in California.

The nebula is estimated to be 120 million light years away from the earth, or 120 million times the distance light would travel in a year. Light traverses approximately 186,000 miles in one second.

A special short-focus lens was used with the 100-inch telescope at Mount Wilson to photograph the spectrum of the nebula.

Lee County Farm Bureau Affairs

At the short course at Rock Falls High School last Monday evening at which C. E. Yale gave a talk on Dairy, there were about 200 present, and at the one held at Ashton High School, Wednesday evening, there were 30 present. He reports much interest in the meetings.

Justin Becker of LaMoille was in Amboy Wednesday on business for the Lee County Service Company.

At the Seed and Weed School held at the Farm Bureau Office, Monday, there were some 30 interested farmers present. This school was in charge of the State Seed Analyst, Albert C. Wilson and Mr. Ingstrom from the State Department of Agriculture. Those present received much valuable information on various kinds of noxious weeds, also on analysis of farm seeds. Mr. Wilson had on display 75 mats showing weed samples, in which the farmers present were very much interested.

The Lee County Service Company held a Director's meeting at the Farm Bureau Office, last Friday night. The Auditor had just finished the audit of their books, and the matter of their patronage dividend was decided. Their annual meeting will be held March 19, at which time the dividend checks will be given out.

Fred Bybee has been assisting the new Service Company manager, Chas. Whitebread in taking invoices and in getting other business taken care of the past two weeks.

H. E. Rasmussen, editor of the Austin (Minn.) Herald, says:

"That so much has been said in behalf of advertising as such that there seems to be little opportunity to say any more for the power and effectiveness of advertising in the business world has become well established and while we call this force advertising, a rose by any other name would smell just as sweetly."

There are business men and firms that believe in newspaper advertising, others that believe in doing their publicity work through the magazines and bill boards, and still others who declare they are "non-advertisers." It is always amusing to discuss advertising with a non-advertiser, for there are none such.

The non-advertiser is usually known for his lack of aggressiveness and the incompleteness of his stock. The man or firm which is not disposed to tell the world about the wares they handle must, in a sense, feel that they cannot stand behind them for some unknown reason.

The best test of quality and reliability of any product is the fact that a firm is willing to make claims about it out in the open, before the public. If he is a reliable business man he cannot go back on those claims and there is a great satisfaction in having the assurance that a product thus advertised and sold can be relied upon to "deliver the goods."

Naturally a newspaper man would advocate the use of newspaper space. Quite aside from any selfish interest which men engaged in the newspaper profession might have in their own medium, it must be accepted and acknowledged that the force of the printed word circulated to thousands of homes in a community is bound to prove effective if the merchandise or service behind that printed word is of the quality and kind advertised and the sales organization handling the product is alert and aggressive to seize opportunities as they present themselves through customers brought into the store or office in response to the advertising. It is at this point that much advertising fails. It is useless to create interest unless those who sell create sales.

LIMITATION OF EUROPE'S NAVAL RACE UP TO DUCE

France and Great Britain In Agreement Over Tonnage

By EDWARD STORER

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Rome, Feb. 25—(UP)—The immediate hope for avoiding a European naval building race rested today with Premier Benito Mussolini, who has proclaimed his desire for strengthening international peace as often as he has warned that Fascism would be "a hard foe."

The British Foreign Secretary, Arthur Henderson and Britain's First Lord of the Admiralty, A. V. Alexander, coming here from Paris, brought the unsigned accord by which France and Britain yesterday agreed to French naval limitation dependent upon Italy's acceptance of restrictions on her naval program.

It was believed almost assured that Italy will join the accord.

With the naval forces of Britain, Japan and the United States already limited under the London naval treaty of 1930, acceptance of the proposals by Mussolini would be of great significance in world disarmament efforts. Failure of the negotiations which have advanced with whirlwind rapidity this week, would be a serious set-back.

Outlook Optimistic

The general impression in Rome, as well as in Paris and London, was that the negotiations would be carried to a satisfactory conclusion. It was believed that only radical and quite unexpected developments could ruin the present favorable prospects for an accord.

The Fascist government was known to desire in an agreement if it could be arranged without forcing Italy to relinquish in principle, her demands for strength comparable to any European nation.

PAW PAW NEWS

Paw Paw—Mrs. Rev. Ward of the Methodist church entertained her class of little girls Saturday afternoon at 2:30. Games were played and a delicious lunch was served. All had an excellent time.

Much excitement has been in the air this week among the ranks of the boys of Paw Paw. It culminated Saturday when Miss Bertha Goble, who had previously hired a carpenter to cut sticks the right lengths for kites and with paper, strong string and rags, along with the boys, little and big, betook themselves to the W. R. C. hall. There such a kite making time was held as never had happened here before. The boys that day made 68 kites of all sizes and descriptions. A wonderful time was had by all and in the late afternoon they went their various ways, each voting Miss Goble a prince of a good fellow.

The Father and Son banquet held at the Methodist church last Thursday evening was largely attended, between 85 and 90 being served. After several numbers by the Merriman orchestra and some community singing, the ladies served a most delicious dinner. Toastmaster Carl Rosenkranz then introduced the speaker of the evening C. E. Yale of Aledo. Mr. Yale made a plea for a closer relationship and a greater intimacy between men and their sons. He pointed out that much waywardness would be prevented if fathers were closer to their boys.

N. C. Barton in a graceful speech, responded in behalf of the fathers and Ted Rosenkranz responded for the sons. Some further community singing and more music from the Merrimans closed the evening.

Hazel Willard spent last week end with Mary Yenerich at Normal. She attended a hotly contested game between Wesleyan and Normal, which resulted in a victory for the latter.

Harry Kroh visited Mendota high last Friday.

Miss Gladys Sharp spent the week end at her home in Bloomington.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wiley were dinner guests at the Prentice home in Paw Paw Sunday.

John Uley is decorating the Everett Pierce home for Mr. and Mrs. Harold Burnet and family to move in soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Willard and children spent Tuesday in Mendota attending the golden wedding anniversary of his folks Mr. and Mrs. George Willard. About 90 were there consisting of relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Cuthbertson of Mendota, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Law of Sandwich and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bradley of Paw Paw visited at the Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Law home near Rollo Sunday.

Elizabeth and Rosemary Nangle visited last Friday the Nancy Hill school in Aurora of which Miss Orla Kent is principal.

Mrs. Minnie Houston and Attorney T. M. Crowell and wife of Sandwich called on friends in town Sunday afternoon.

A joint meeting of the directors of the Paw Paw Cooperative Grain Co. and the directors of the Scarboro Farmers Elevator was held at the bank in Paw Paw last Saturday afternoon to hear George Metzger, secretary of the Illinois Agricultural Association explain the set-up and operation of the new Illinois Grain Corporation. A great deal of interest many questions asked. At this time is impossible to say what these elevators will do in the matter of joining this farmer owned and controlled central grain marketing agency sponsored by the Federal Farm Board.

A new composition by a Paw Paw composer was the treat the Community club members listened to on last Tuesday evening. The number "Paw Paw Community Triumphal March" was played by the orchestra directed by Harold Parker.

Len Carnahan of Paw Paw is the composer of the march, which has a stirring military swing strongly reminiscent of the work of the March King, Sousa.

It has a haunting melody all its own, which will be hummed and whistled long after the orchestra or band is silent.

Mr. Carnahan got his inspiration from the storm which stopped the band concert on the evening of Homecoming day. Going home he heard the distant cracking of the lightning which announced the coming storm. It formed the motif for the first part at once. The thunder following was also faithfully portrayed. A lull in the storm provided the trio movement and when it burst in redoubled fury the composer felt its power and with full orchestra and heavy basses swung into the main theme of his march. The receding storm marks the finale of his work.

Mr. Carnahan will arrange his composition for band production, and it is hoped that it may often be heard here the coming summer.

The Neighbor Ladies Club and their families and a few other neighbors gave Mr. and Mrs. John Mortimer, Jr., and family a farewell dinner at their home Feb. 13. About 40 persons were present. A bountiful potluck dinner was served. Mrs. Mortimer has been a member of this club and the club ladies gave a piece of silver as a parting gift, also many good wishes as she moves to her new home in Paw Paw.

It seems hardly possible, yet it is true, that Lee county people spent $113,065 in cold cash in the year 1930 for automobile licenses. To this large sum add the gasoline tax and the general property tax on automobiles and we have a staggering sum contributed by the auto drivers, who are largely farmers, for the construction and maintenance of our public roads and yet we think we are about busted.

Supposed Victim Of Murder Appears As One of Jurors

Indianapolis, Feb. 25—(AP)—

Whatever the decision of two physicians as to the sanity of Harold Herbert Schroeder, Mobile, Ala., alleged "torch" slayer on trial here for first degree murder, it will not be revealed until all evidence in the case has been presented.

Judge Frank P. Baker planned today to confer with Dr. Rogers E. Smith and Dr. Charles D. Humes, both of Indianapolis, whom he appointed yesterday to examine Schroeder. Ira M. Holmes, Schroeder's attorney, has entered an insanity plea for the former Mobile business man.

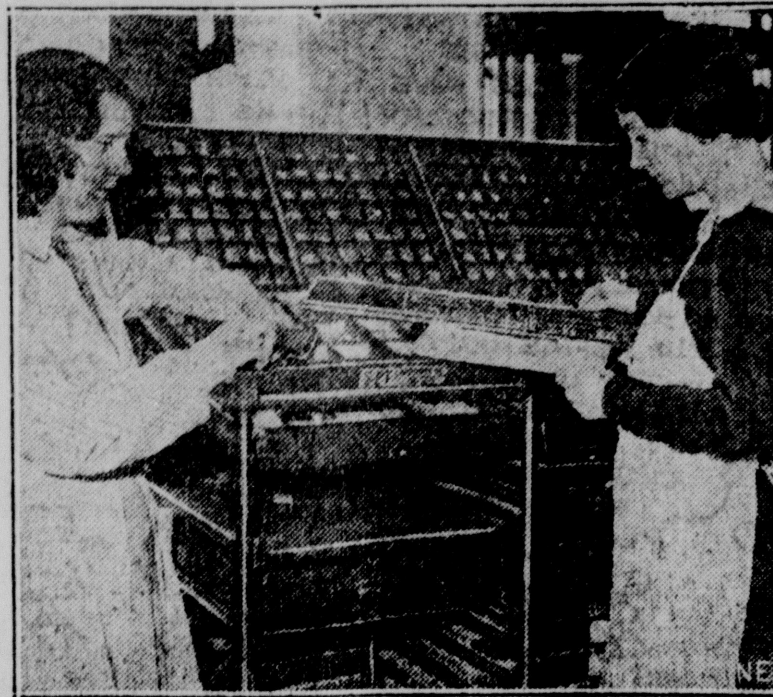

Nine jurors had been tentatively accepted by both state and defense at the close of the first day of the trial in Criminal Court, and it was expected the panel may be completed today.

Schroeder is charged with killing an unidentified man and burning the body in his automobile near here last May 31.

One of the veniremen excused yesterday was Louis A. Halboush, of Indianapolis, who told Judge Baker, "I am supposed to be the murdered man and I don't believe I had better serve on the jury."

Questioned by the court, Halboush explained he is a rug salesman who is frequently away on trips, and

FELLOWSHIP OF PRAYER

DAILY LENTEN DEVOTION

PREPARED BY THE REV. CLARENCE H. WILSON, D.D.
FOR THE COMMISSION ON EVANGELISM OF THE FEDERAL
COUNCIL OF THE CHURCHES OF CHRIST IN AMERICA

HOME-TOWN FOLKS

"No prophet is accepted in his own country."—Luke 4:24. (Read Luke 4:15-30.)

Meditation—

Jesus went back to his home town apparently after a long absence. He went to church and was given an opportunity to preach. His old neighbors were not proud of him. They resented His presumption in going beyond them. How foolish people are that way! As though the home town had no title or right to excellence! It is so in many a small town which deprecates its own product. Then Jesus preached a missionary sermon and the people were offended at that. They were one hundred per cent patriotic and were angered when Jesus told them that God cared for foreigners. What foolish egotists we are on the subject of race and nation! We assume that we are the chosen people. The home town mind is provincial. The field is the world.

Prayer—

O God who hast made of one blood all nations, make broad our human sympathies and make deep our Christian charity. And make us sensible, we beseech Thee, of Thine anointing when it rests on familiar heads. In Jesus' name. Amen.

KILLED BY ROBBER.

Gary, Ind., Feb. 25—(AP)—Walter Kolodziecki, 44, died today of wounds received last night when he resisted a Negro bandit who held up his grocery store. Kolodziecki and his daughter Mary, 13, were in the store when the bandit entered. When they attempted to save $7 in the cash register the bandit fired three shots. Two striking the grocer in the back above the heart. The bandit escaped and no trace of him has been found.

The great eclipse of 1931

To the motorist thinking of buying a new car now, the attention the entire industry is giving to Free Wheeling means a great deal. Pierce-Arrow and Lincoln, noted for engineering excellence and conservatism, have adopted—intact and unmodified—the same Free Wheeling mechanism that is built into Studebaker's three great Eights and brilliant new Six.

Free Wheeling has captured public interest as thoroughly as it has captured the hitherto wasted power of momentum.

Highway commissioners and safety directors throughout the country have driven Free Wheeling Studebakers and then voiced approval of Free Wheeling with positive gear control as a new measure of safety to driver and public.

All Studebaker cars—the President, Commander and Dictator Eights, as well as the brilliant new low-priced Studebaker Six—have Free Wheeling with positive gear control. Studebaker cars are priced, f. o. b. factory, from $795 to $2600.

STUDEBAKER—BUILDER OF CHAMPIONS

In Free Wheeling, for the first time in the history of the automobile, Studebaker has released momentum and made it serve as an instrument of economy and power. Free Wheeling with positive gear control enables the engine to deliver five miles of travel on four miles of effort.

You will do well if you make sure that your new car is a Free Wheeling Studebaker. It will save you substantial amounts on gasoline, oil, tires and repairs.

The cars of today that do not offer Free Wheeling are cars of the old order even though they may be spoken of as new. Base your new car choice on first-hand knowledge—ask your Studebaker dealer to take you Free Wheeling.

Thank the millions who have switched to Shell for this new economy in car lubrication

SHELL MOTOR OIL, the highest quality lubricant any car can use, has been reduced from 30 cents to 25 cents per quart. Increased volume and lower refining costs have made possible this price reduction.

This is the first step in a new program of vital interest to every motorist. In the next few weeks Shell will make available to you other important economies affecting the cost of operating your car.

Shell Motor Oil, now only 25 cents per quart, is premium grade oil. It is made from the choicest crudes... Refined by the most modern methods...

From it you get the same ease in starting and smooth performance, the same protection against repair bills as from the most costly oils.

Shell Motor Oil has a low "pour point" for freezing weather, and high heat resistance for torrid summers. Under the toughest jobs, it can't break down or lose its penetrating power. It forms only 1/3 to 1/5 as much carbon as the most expensive oils—and it forms no hard carbon at all.

Pay more than 25 cents per quart for oil if you wish, pay less if you want to take the chance. But the advice of Shell engineers who have tested every known brand of oil is this:

"Keep your car filled with the proper grade of Shell Motor Oil. Change it at the periods specified by the car manufacturer. You'll get all the fine engine-performance your car was built to give, at lowest possible cost, if you observe this simple care."

No Hard Carbon in Shell Motor Oil

The hard, flinty carbon left after burning a sample of an expensive motor oil. The amount of carbon formed was over 3 times that created by burning the same amount of Shell Motor Oil.

The carbon left after burning Shell Motor Oil. It is soft—will not cake like cement on your cylinder walls like the hard carbon formed by the oil at the top. And there is only 1/5 as much of it.

THE PARLEY

TODAY I heard a parley of the crows
At the wood edge and one,

In tones half raucous and miser half mellow,
Declaimed about the onset of the snow

Declared he, "for the blue birds and the yellow
Have fled where the white tempests

But the palm waves and the hibiscus blows.

Let us take wing and follow!" Cried

We cannot change our coats, dear
elder brother,
Nor make our voices like the violin-

Why should we not be game—and

Miss Slade One of Gandhi Supporters

By James A. Mills
New Delhi, India, Feb. 26.—(AP)—
Behind the scenes of the present political drama in India is an English woman, Miss Madeleine Slade daughter of Sir Edmund Slade, for many years Commander-in-chief of British naval forces in India.

Renouncing all the pleasures, comforts and amenities of everyday existence, Miss Slade has embraced asceticism and the mysteries of Hindu life and has become the ardent disciple of Mahatma Gandhi, who took her to the sacred city of Benares and after immersing her in the holy Ganges river, initiated her into the mysteries of the Hindu religion.

She has shaved her head in monastic fashion, given all her money to the poor, goes barefooted, burned all her European clothes and wears only the cheapest homespun Hindu garments. She has taken the Hindu name of "Mira Bai." When asked by L.C. British friends if she is "Miss Slade" she replies: "No, Miss Slade has been dead and buried for five years."

Miss Slade prays, fasts and indulges in various forms of expiation, and enters into regular periods of silence and meditation. She has charge of Gandhi's household, prepares all his meals, sees that he is properly clothed and looks after him with a mother's solicitude for a child.
Gandhi's own wife, who is a woman of advanced age, could not show more devotion to the aged leader than Miss Slade, who worships him with the ardor of the most intense religious zeal. Mrs. Gandhi, who has not seen her husband since he entered prison nine months ago,
keeps quietly in the background, never appearing among those who share Gandhi's counsels.

Miss Slade, who is a woman of marked culture, ability and executive capacity, is much more than a mere servant or disciple of Gandhi.
She takes an active part in the independence movement and in addition to giving Gandhi advice, she attends to his large correspondence.
There have been frequent rumors that the British authorities were on the point of deporting her. She is Gandhi's closest confidante, sharing all his secrets, hopes and sorrows.
This close relationship has given rise to some criticism on the part of those connected with the Congress party but the feeling among the majority is that it is a personal matter for Gandhi alone to decide.

Miss Slade first learned of Gandhi five years ago through reading Ro-mand Rolland's sketch of the famous ascetic. She sought permission from Gandhi to join his ashram or colony in India. Gandhi replied that it would be best for her to take a year to consider the matter, whereupon Miss Slade went to Switzerland, changed all her habits and customs and pursued a simple life, working and living among the peasants of Switzerland.

Her father disinherited her for embracing the cause of Indian independence to the detriment of the British empire but the daughter did not care.

College Girls Submit to Tests for Science

Northampton, Mass. —(UP)—For three years Smith College girls have been submitting to basal metabolism tests that may result in the creation of certain new standards in the field of medicine.

Professor Myra M. Sampson of the zoology department, directing the tests, expects the work will be finished by spring, at which time the various records will be compiled and published.

"We are measuring the basal metabolism of students to find out how much energy they expend daily and what relation this bears to health and college work," Professor Sampson explained.
More than 100 girls are participating in the tests.

Plans Ready For Radio Audition

Philadelphia —(UP)—A fifth National Radio Audition, to be held during 1931, with prizes of $25,000 in cash and musical scholarships for the winners, was authorized today by the Atwater Kent Foundation.

Organization for local and state registration of entrants will be perfected during the coming month and preliminary auditions will begin early in the spring.
Decision to extend the audition into its fifth consecutive year was reached by A. Atwater Kent, president of the Foundation, after a careful study of the accomplishments of earlier audition winners and of the recognition they have received in musical circles.

That these young singers have achieved national reputations almost overnight is attributed largely to their having "arrived" by radio. The public itself had a voice in their selection, since winners in state and district contests were determined through the combined vote of the radio audience and a board of musical judges. From the start they have had a national audience and national recognition has been prompt.

Any young singer between the ages of 18 and 25, not a professional, is eligible for the audition. Following local tests the competition will run through state and district eliminations to a final national sing-off which will be broadcast over a nation-wide network of radio stations, in which the respective ratings of

Screams of Pain On Records Aid In Lash Fight

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 26.—(UP)— Manitoba club women plan to use phonograph records in a newly revised campaign against lashing prisoners. A practice now in effect in British Columbia prisons.

Although all Manitoba women's clubs are not in accord on the campaign, a number have adopted resolutions condemning the practice and several have advocated that sound records be made of screams of convicts under the lash.

These will cause such a revulsion of public opinion, the resolutions state, that the "barbaric punishment" will be abolished.

Another society, viewing the subject more from the angle of the victim rather than the criminal, replied in a resolution that it would only be fair to make a record of the victim's screams while being robbed, so that the public could judge both sides.

British Columbia revived lashings for convicts sentenced for robbery with violence only a few years ago.
It was ordered in the case of the Nanaimo bank robbers and since has been used to deter youthful offenders.

Resolutions passed in British Columbia mostly have been in favor of abolishing lashing. Those in favor of lashing point to the light Canadian crime record compared with countries not using the lash.

Half-Century Romance Is Nearing Completion

Media, Pa., Feb. 26.—(UP)—A romance, disrupted by parental objections nearly half a century ago at Elkton, neared its realization recently when the couple obtained a marriage license.

The persistent wooer is William H.
Salmon, 71, and his wife to be is Mrs. Elizabeth R. Allen, 64.

Fifty years ago they were sweethearts in Elkton. Their parents objected to the match because of their youth. Salmon remained in Elkton, while his sweetheart went to Philadelphia.

During the years that followed,
both married and never saw each other again. Mrs. Allen became a

You can rejuvenate your last year's suit many ways. First, by making a frock and cardigan jacket into a little bolero frock suit, lengthening the skirt by using a plain material with a figured frock and trimming the coat with the same. Second, last year's bolero, with plaid wool or silk to make skirt banding and hip-yoke and waistband, becomes a sweet little fitted jacket suit. Third, use up a perfectly good tailored jacket this spring by making a novelty tweed skirt and trimming the jacket with the same.

widow 35 years ago. Salmon's wife died last May.
Recently, Mrs. Allen went back to the old home town. She met Salmon and their childhood romance was revived.

YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Roberts Barton

Conduct should have free play within a circle, not be pinched between two closely-drawn lines.

All human behavior acts freely, or should act freely within limitations, and those limitations should never be so narrow that a little step to one side makes us outlaws or felons.

Older people must live in a world circumscribed by the ten commandments plus social and political law.
Within that circle we have a great deal of freedom, room to live and think and have our being and at the same time keep our own self-respect and the respect of our neighbors.

The child's miniature world should be a copy of our world.
He has laws to obey, and these

Need Liberal Home Laws

Now all this sounds very ponderous, but it is really simple in the extreme. What all experts in child training are trying to impress on parents is the necessity of fixing home laws wide enough so that the child has enough room to spread himself within them without irritation or fretting.

This is the only answer to the fast-growing question: "Which is better—to teach the child independence or to teach him obedience?" The above analysis shows that both can be taught at the same time.

Now for a little child just beginning to try himself out against the world at 3 or 4 years of age, the wall of laws must be elastic. It will bulge in places. Because he is in the "telling" stage. You are really building the wall of laws now. He is gradually learning the things that are right and the things that are wrong, the things he should do and the things he must not do.

Patience is necessary, because we must consider that his understanding is limited and his breaking over is due not to deliberate misbehavior,

but to forgetfulness, confusion, inability to understand "why."

Law-consciousness is more effective than law obedience. We cannot have the latter without the former.
A child will only learn unquestioning obedience when he has room inside the circle to be natural and happy.

Make home rule as strict as you like, but only in really important things, and remember the little child cannot come up to the requirements of older children.

Contrasts to Mark The Easter Parade

Paris —(AP)—Contrasting color frocks sound a bright note in advance notices of what the smart women will wear in the Easter parade this spring.

The new frocks, designed chiefly for young women, combine several shades of one color or three or more different colors. Black, beige and light blue; navy, grey and jade are among the combinations which it is said will be used in the contrasting color frocks. The light colors are used in the bodice, with dark shades in the skirt.

Glorifying Yourself

You should learn to know your nose for its full beauty value. No one nose holds absolute records for perfection. You may have a sassy little-up-tilted nose and combined with a few freckles and wide-spaced eyes, it may be the loveliest nose in the world for you.

Big noses, moreover, are not always a handicap. There are many lovely women with noses quite a bit larger in proportion than their other features and it gives them a certain strength in their facial beauty.

If your nose is a size and shape that just makes you miserable, you can, of course, have it altered sur-gically. But it is an expensive operation, none but the best should do it, and it isn't a pleasant operation. Lots of times women worry about their noses when they are perfectly all right in shape, only happen to be of the shiny variety or inclined to redness which has nothing to do with the size.

When there are warts on the nose, they should be taken off.
There is no excuse for these blemishes, since their removal is easily accomplished by experts and the expense negligible considering the results.

But when your nose is oily or inclined to shininess, to blackheads or enlarged pores, you most certainly should do something about it immediately. We have just taken up the subject of blackheads. The treatment of oily skin is persistent cleansing. Wash it often with hot water and the finest of castile or other bland soap, or one of the soap substitutes. Do not rub hard, merely soap and rinse; and soap and rinse until the nose is clean. After washing and rinsing, use a good astringent. Finish off with powder, put on by a clean puff or a clean bit of absorbent cotton.

If your nose is red, that is another matter again. Redness may be caused by external or internal conditions and you may need physical care. Sluggish circulation, digestive disorders or the constant use of too hot beverage may cause your red nose. These are matters for the physician, not the beautician.

If your red nose comes from long exposure to cold, that can be remedied by shielding it with your muff, your hat or coat collar. If it is poor circulation, you might try a mild solution of alum water, alternating bathing your face in it with dashes of hot and cold water.

If it is mere shininess or oiliness
that you suffer from, however, you can do much to improve it. Start immediately and keep it up. You won't know your nose within a month
if you get its skin all nice and fine.

SAYS CONDITIONS ARE REAL MENACE NEXT GENERATION

Member Of Wickersham's Committee Tells Of Liquor Situation

New York, Feb. 25.—(UP)—Col. Henry W. Anderson, member of the Wickersham Commission which reported on prohibition enforcement, told the Merchants' Association of New York today that "present conditions as to the illegal traffic in and use of intoxicating liquors, are a serious menace to the health of present and future generations and a challenge to orderly government."

He advocated establishment of a plan similar to that now in operation in Sweden, as he recommended in his individual report as a member of the commission.

"From 1922 to the present," he said, "there has been an almost steady trend upward in drinking with a corresponding upward trend in arrests and convictions for drunkenness and for violations of the law in deaths from alcoholism and other similar data."

Drinking Increases

"Drinking seems to be general and increasing in substantially all parts of the country and among all classes of the population. This appears to be especially true as to drinking among the youth of both sexes."

He cited as an example of this the statistics of arrests for drunkenness in his home state, Virginia. The arrests in Richmond per 1,000 of the population increased from 11.23 in 1921 to 19.40 in 1929.

"Speakeasies exist in all our cities where liquors of various kinds are obtained with little difficulty," he said. "There appears to be no place in the United States where liquor of some kinds cannot be purchased at a price."

Revenue Estimates

He said the aggregate revenues from the liquor traffic have been estimated at from $2,500,000,000 to $4,000,000,000 a year. This money is also used for the organization of other lines of crime, such as the white slave traffic, the opium traffic and racketeering of various sorts, he added.

"For the first time in the history of the world, organized crime seems to be adequately financed," he said. "The evidence is clear," he said,

"that the opposition to this law by a large proportion of the best citizens of the community, many of whom are total abstainers, arises out of fundamental beliefs which are deeply rooted in our political life."

These people regarded it as "an unwarranted interference with the individual's personal liberty," he said.

Another obstacle to observance and enforcement, he said, is the structure of the amendment itself, in directly extending the police power of the Federal government rather than giving Congress power to deal with the situation as it sees fit.

DEMAND FOR ORTT DEVICE GROWING NOW

Twenty Positive Differentials Manufactured Daily

Manufacture of the positive differential, invented and perfected by the late R. E. Ortt of this city, who arranged for the manufacture of the device by a Rockford company, has now reached the stage of twenty per day with prospects of further demand.

The new positive differential, which fits standard bevel gear and gear shafts, is readily installed in any passenger automobile, truck, tractor or other motor vehicle, positively to both driving wheels, turning them at exactly equal speeds regardless of their traction, is pointed out by the manufacturers as one of the features of the new device. It compensates for curves automatically.

In vehicles equipped with the positive differential, it is impossible for one wheel to stand still while the other spins through lack of traction, according to the manufacturers. If both wheels lose their grip it is only necessary to provide traction for one to move the car forward.

A Good Appetite?

Yes—then work seems like play!

THAT is the right way! Don't starve your system—those red-blood-cells, when lowered in number, may cause serious trouble. In fact, if the tendency of a lowered red-cell count is allowed to continue, ANEMIA may result.

Body weakness, lack of appetite, underweight, paleness, sallow complexion, pimples and boils are symptoms of a low blood count. These may indicate that you need S.S.S.

S.S.S. restores the red-blood-cells to normal. Your appetite picks up, your whole body is strengthened, invigorated! You, too, may soon possess a wonderful power of new life and vitality. Get the large size bottle. At all drug stores.
